USE SMALL EQUIPMENT HOW FARMERS MAY

The average farmer cannot afford to buy much improved machinery that he would like to use. He cannot afford to buy them because he has need for such machines only a few days each year, and the idle machines represent an appalling waste of capital. An expensive machine that is standing idle and rusting out is certainly not a good investment. And yet the small farmer needs the invaluable help of modern farm power and machinery. What then is he to do? The solution of this problem is to go into partnership with other farmers. Five to ten farmers can well afford to invest in such machines as the following:

Stump puller, manure spreader, post hole digger, grain drill, mule clipper, peanut picker, stalk cutter, road drag, hay press, grain binder, and concrete mixer.

The cost of such machinery could well be distributed among a number of farmers who could use the machines on their farms under certain rules and regulations. Some of these machines are especially suited to cooperative ownership, as the season of use extends over the larger part of the year. Stump pullers, road graders, ditching machines, manure spreaders, pea hullers, hay presses, stalk cutters, farm levels, and many other machines are used at almost any time.

By planning ahead, several farmers should be able to use most of the machines used on farms without seriously incurring one another.

There is a great opportunity for farmers through co-operation to operate a few labor-saving machines and thereby to greatly reduce the cost of production and at the same time to eliminate much "wastage."

COFFEE COUNTY VETERAN DIES

Many people in the county will be shocked to learn of the death of Huey Edgar, the oldest citizen in this territory, which occurred at his home in the Tabernacle Community Saturday morning, June 2nd. He was a Confederate veteran, and was 94 years of age his last birthday, March 10. Mr. Edgar was a highly respected citizen of this section, and had many friends who will regret sincerely to learn of his death.

PROMINENT ELBA CITIZEN DIES

J. E. EDWARDS LOCAL BUSINESS MAN DIES UNEXPECTEDLY
SUNDAY MORNING

The people of Elba were deeply grieved and shocked Sunday morning when the news of the death of Mr. J. E. Edwards, who occurred Saturday night at his home, was received. He had been sick for only a few days and his condition was not known to be serious until about 24 hours before the end came.

Mr. Edwards was one of Elba's best known citizens. He had made his home here for the past thirty years. At the time of his death he was fifty-two years old.

Mr. Edwards was formerly connected with the Edwards-Rice Hardware Co. For the past two years he has been a member of the Elba Hardware & Furniture Co. He was known and loved by scores of people in and around Elba.

The funeral party left Elba Saturday morning for Union Springs where the burial took place. The services were conducted by Rev. B. Paul and Rev. F. M. Lowery.

BAPTIST SOCIETIES MEET THURSDAY.

MAYS-VAUGHN REPORT EXCELLENT SALE

The Mays-Vaughn Mercantile Company inaugurated the Dollar-a-Day Sale idea in Elba three months ago, and at first were rather skeptical of the advisability of such sales in a town this size, but the first one put on was such a tremendous success that Dollar Days will be conducted regularly. Each sale has shown a decided gain in sales over previous months, and last Friday and Saturday added an even higher percentage over the two preceding months.

The next sale will be held Saturday, June 30, and Monday, July 2. Particular attention should be paid to the dates, as previous sales have been on Friday and Saturday.

GOODRICH FACTORY HITS HIGH MARK

On May 18th The B. F. Goodrich Company eclipsed its previous high mark by manufacturing, at the Akron factory 45,820 tires and 50,557 tubes in one day. This is an increase over former records of 44.5 per cent on tires and 28.8 per cent on tubes.

Due to the popularity of the Silvertown Ballroom and the Goodrich market this Company, one of the largest producers of rubber goods, has been making rapid strides in the industry.

The production for 1927 exceeded that of 1926 by 38 per cent, while during the same period tube manufacture increased 24.9 per cent. Schedules for 1928 indicate an increase over 1927 figures. Inventories have been gradually liquidated, signifying an early and equal expansion in sales volume.

The opening of the Pacific-Goodrich Plant at Los Angeles will make no inroads upon the schedule for the Akron factory. The west coast plant has a daily capacity of 2,000 tires and 7,500 tubes, established to meet western trade demands. The English, French and Canadian factories likewise manufacture for their respective geographical areas.

Negro Can Spin on Feet and Walk Like 'No Drunk,' Police Decide.

Is a man drunk when he can spin rapidly about on his feet three times and then walk a line for 30 feet? J. L. Phenix, lieutenant of police, decided not last night.

At 9 p. m. five negroes were brought before the lieutenant.

"What's the charge?" he demanded. "Gaming," replied J. L. Phenix, patrol driver.

The names, ages and other information necessary, were taken and placed on the docket. The Lieut. Phenix looked questioningly at Fred Taylor, one of the prisoners.

"You're drunk?" he asked. "Me?" exclaimed Taylor. "No, ain't I can smell it?" Lieut. Phenix said.

"Well I had some wine at a foot-washin," the negro admitted.

Lieut. Phenix told the four other negroes to go, but warned them to appear in court today.

"I want to go too," Taylor said. "Honest I ain't drunk."

"Well, I'll tell you what," said the officer, "if you can turn around three times fast and walk a line 30 feet I'll let you go."

The negro tried it once but failed. "You'll have to go to jail," the lieutenant told him.

"Gimme one more chance," pleaded the negro.

"One more."

Bracing himself firmly the negro wheeled about three times rapidly. Then with great effort he walked the line.

"Go on home," laughed Lieutenant Phenix. Be in court tomorrow.

"Yess sah, Cap'n, I'll sho be dar!" When Anderson Dean, one of the other negroes, was asked if he was born in Alabama, he exclaimed: "No sah! I was born in Troy!" — Montgomery Advertiser.

BERRY GETS AID IN CANDIDACY

BIRMINGHAM CLUB FORMED TO SEEK NOMINATION AS VICE PRESIDENT

Active work in Birmingham was started today in the interest of the candidacy of Major George L. Berry, of Tennessee, for vice president at the Houston convention, following the organization here last night of a Berry-for-Vice President club.

Berry, a former printer and at present president of the International Printing Pressman's Union, has been inducted in 14 state labor unions.

He is a charter member of the American Legion and one of the vice commanders, a southern, Protestant and 32nd degree Mason.

At the last Democratic convention in New York received 361 1/2 votes, and six states already have instructed their delegates to vote for him this time. He is being conscripted into the race, according to his friends.

Berry is founder of the Pressman's Home, in Tennessee, including the largest printing school in the world and recently established a $1,000,000 home there for widows and orphans.

His supporters point out that he has fought the ranks by his own efforts and is turning his money back to institutions of humanity, and that his qualifications of the position meet all requirements.

A definite plan of action will be drawn up by members of the club here at an early date. It was announced. — Birmingham Post.

FARM CLUB GIRLS ENDS SHORT COURSE

AUBURN, Ala., June 6 — After spending four days in Auburn at the annual state short course for 4-H club girls the 80 girls who attended left for home Saturday, June 2. They came from 40 counties. Each county having a home demonstration agent sent the two girls whose work entitled them to make the trip.

During their stay in Auburn they were given intensive training in subjects pertaining to their work. Of special interest was the instruction in home industries given by Miss Ida-John Williams, the chief objective of this work being to suggest opportunities for the club girls and women to make and sell products; and thereby add to the income for the farm home.

Pretty, clothing, home management, and other subjects were taught. Along with these the girls had their social gatherings, including a reception at which they were hosts and ladies of information necessary, were taken and placed on the docket. The Lieut. Phenix looked questioningly at Fred Taylor, one of the prisoners.

"You're drunk?" he asked. "Me?" exclaimed Taylor. "No, ain't I can smell it?" Lieut. Phenix said.

"Well I had some wine at a foot-washin," the negro admitted.

NEW JIMMY JUNGLE STORE
NEXTAINS CROWDS ALL DAY
SATURDAY AT OPENING

Everybody was invited; everybody was expected, and almost everybody attended the formal opening of Elba's first Jimmy-Jungle retail grocery store according to Messrs. Harper and Bell owners of the Jimmy-Jungle franchise in Elba who Saturday opened their first store at Harper's Old Grocery Stand.

Promptly at 8 A. M. Saturday morning the big red and green front store opened its doors and a chorus of music, and from that hour until closing great crowds of visitors and shoppers inspected and approved the Jimmy-Jungle system of grocery merchandising with its advertised "a n d guaranteed claim of 'Save a Nickel on a Quarter'."

The Jimmy-Jungle system lay claim to the most modern and most efficient method of displaying merchandise in the world, a system where shopping is made easy and the great privilege of personal selection afforded every customer in such a manner as to make it time saving and for the pocket money of the customer.

The Elba store is a unit in the buying power of chain buying boys and registers for the Jimmy-Jungle system. With this combination of advantages the management claims to pass up to the public dividends in the way of the best in groceries at a price that is less.

Messrs. Harper and Bell principal owners, said: "The opening Saturday received approval even beyond our expectations. As improvements are made in merchandise business and progress, and in adopting the self-service cash system of grocery merchandising we feel that we can better serve the public, and at the same time make them our partners and co-operators, paying them their dividends in price savings."

CROPS SUFFER HEAVY DAMAGE FROM RAINS

Beginning Saturday night, a n d continuing intermittently until Tuesday morning heavy rains again played havoc with cotton and other crops in this section.

While perhaps as much rain fell this time, as in the recent flood, the water had more time to run off, and no damage was done in town. Pea Grove and Beaver Dam creek were both perilously near flood stage Tuesday, and a bad looking cloud Tuesday noon brought added fear that the rain would continue, but with our shower the cloud passed over and the calmness of the day also were clear.

Farmers in the county report that their lands are badly washed, and the outlook on crops are exceedingly dismal.

The following paragraph is from Tuesday's issue of the Alabama Journal:

W. M. Brunson, of Elba, representative of Coffee county in the legislature and Frank O. Deese, of Ozark, Dale county, who were in Montgomery during the morning, stated that the heavy rains of the week end had seriously damaged the highways and crops. Both expressed the opinion that not more than one-half crop can be expected in their counties this year.

MICHELIN TIRES TUBES

The Best-Made Tire

ONLY the best of the world's materials are used in Michelin Tires. For instance, Michelin rubber comes only from selected plantations and costs 20% more per pound than the market price. Moreover, the most advanced design and manufacture are used throughout all Michelin Tires. For example, Michelin has pioneered in the use of high-twist cord, and Michelin Tires have always been made of rubber-saturated fabric, now widely advertised. It pays to use Michelines.

vanguard is now emerging in Alabama at a conference at Auburn of entomologists of the College of Agriculture and Extension Service officials. It was decided that preparations be made for poisoning Mr. Boll

Experimental results presented by M. Robinson, head of the department of entomology, showed that has been very profitable as in the last four years. Three cents were reported — one at one with a farmer in Lee and one with a farmer in Mery County. The avera g e poisoning was $7.25 per acre
